Skinner-Hardester Vows Read in Methodist Rites

Miss Jane Skinner, choral director at El Camino College, became the bride of Eugene Hardester in a four o'clock ceremony Saturday afternoon at the Torrance First Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Skinner of Piedmont.

As the 200 wedding guests assembled the El Camino College Chorale sang under the direction of J. Russell Bodley, dean of the conservatory, University of the Pacific at Stockton. Dr. Robert Haag, instructor, El Camino College, was organist. Dr. Maurice Allard of the Pomona College faculty sang Bach's "Bist du bei Mir."

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a traditional wedding gown of candleglow taffeta with a Chantilly lace bodice and detachable train. Her fingertip veil fell from a fluted net headpiece and she carried a bouquet of Eucharist lilies.

Miss Lorraine Backes served as maid of honor and Mrs. Audrey Whiteford was the matron of honor. Miss Evelyn Paulding was bridesmaid. They were gowned in floor length willow green satin and carried bouquets of Talisman roses.

Mr. Hardester is sales manager for Teeco Products in Anaheim.

SUZIE JONES
... Future Bride

Engagement Announced

Family members and close friends attending a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Goss, 24322 Lucille Ave., in Lomita, recently were told of the engagement of Miss Suzie Jones and Michael Goss. Mrs. Martin Jones, 1732 W. 246th St., is the mother of the bride-elect.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Both Miss Jones and her fiancé are seniors at Narbonne High School and will be graduated in June, after which the future bride will enroll at a beauty college.

'On The Town' Benefit Slated by Sisterhood

Fun and fund-raising will hold hands in the back seats of the cars of the merry-makers driving into Los Angeles to join Temple Menorah Sisterhood members for their annual benefit Spring affair "On the Town" to be held at The Crescendo Night Club on the Sunset Strip, Sunday, March 1.

A cocktail hour from 7 to 8 p.m. is scheduled with a sitdown dinner to be served at 8 p.m. Danceable dinner music will be played during the dinner hour.

Guests of the evening will be entertained by the hilarious antics of comedian Sheeky Green performing for the pleasure of Temple Menorah members and guests.

During the evening, a three-day trip to the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas for two people will be awarded.

Tickets are available to the public now, according to Mrs. Edward Sokolski, chairman,

YOUR PROBLEMS

by Ann Landers

'Kermit Gets The Nod . . .'

Dear Ann Landers: The man I was engaged to left town suddenly and I was so heartbroken I refused to date for almost two years.

Recently I began to keep company with a man who works with me. He has rekindled my interest in the opposite sex. My father met Kermit for the first time last evening and he pointed out something that made me uncomfortable.

Papa said there must be something wrong with a man who "smells as good as Kermit does and wears nail polish — even if it is colorless." Frankly, I like the pleasant scent that Kermit has about himself. It's aftershave lotion. I think his fingernails look very nice, too.

Am I wrong? Is there something sissified or effeminate about a man who has beautiful nails and smells good?— ANOTHER ANN

Dear Ann: A he-man does not need to smell like a stable-hand and have a half acre of soil under his fingernails to prove it. Kermit gets the nod from this Ann, too.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 16 and ready to make a reservation in The Old Ladies Home. My life is ruined and I never want to see another boy as long as I live.

I will call the rat Troy because he looks like Troy Donahue. We started to go steady Labor Day weekend. Troy gave me his picture and wrote on it, "Love, forever." We exchanged sweaters, I.D. bracelets, I put a peroxide streak in his hair, he painted my name on the door of his convertible and we were like soddered.

I should have guessed when he gave me an 87c bottle of cologne for Christmas, but the cookie didn't crumble until he told me he had to take a third cousin out New Year's Eve — his mother's orders. I told him to come get his junk, that we were through. His answer was, "Fine. Going steady is like being in jail. Good-bye Warden."

What do you think of a skunk who would treat a girl like that after she gave (Continued on Page 26)

Lady Elks To Present Fashion Show

Torrance Ladies of the Elks will present a "Century of Fashions" on Tuesday evening Jan. 28 at the Elks lodge on Abalone Ave.

The fashion parade, with members as models, will include a collection of fashions during the past century belonging to the Goodwill Industries.

The creations will be paraded as an accompanist furnishes a background of music suitable to the era.

The public is invited to see the show. There will be door prizes and refreshments.

From Carson City

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Schmidt of Carson City, Nev., will arrive this weekend to visit their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reid, 921 Arlington Ave. The Schmidts moved from Torrance to Carson City last August where Mr. Schmidt manages a Western Auto Store. He will attend the Western Auto Show in Long Beach during the weekend.
